

INSTITUTE OF HIGH ORDER

Clatsop County Teachers Will Hold Interesting Sessions This Month.

NOTED EDUCATORS COMING

City Superintendent Clark Will Preside and Miss Shively Will Have Charge of the Music.

Those who have in hand the arrangements for the county teachers' institute to be held in this city the latter part of this month aim to make the sessions more interesting, if possible, than any that have been held here in the past. With this object in view the services of able educators have been retained, men who have impressed themselves indelibly upon the educational life of the state. Among them will be L. R. Traver of Salem and H. D. Sheldon of Eugene. Both of these gentlemen are university professors of note. State Superintendent J. H. Ackerman will, of course, be on hand and will address the teachers at each session. Miss Kathryn Shively will have charge of the music, which will be an especially attractive feature. The sessions will be held in the high school building. City Superintendent of Schools Clark will preside in the absence of County Superintendent Lyman, who is now at St. Louis at the head of the Oregon educational exhibit of the world's fair. The institute will be held on the 27th, 28th and 29th. Attractive programs have been issued, which contain in detail the exercises to be carried out at each day's session, which follows in full:

MAKES A CLEAN SWEEP.

There's nothing like doing a thing thoroughly. Of all the Salves you ever heard of, Bucklen's Adnica Salve is the best. It sweeps away and cures Burns, Sores, Bruises, Cuts, Bolls, Ulcers, Skin Eruptions and Piles. It is only 25c. and guaranteed to give satisfaction by Charles Rogers, druggist.

FOREIGNER OF NOTE IN CITY

Rev. Ole Olsen, of Norway, Addresses Large Audience of Astorians.

SPEAKS OF NATIVE HEATH

Lecturer En Route for Los Angeles to Attend General Conference of Methodist Episcopal Church.

Rev. Ole Olsen, delegate from Norway to the general conference of the Methodist church, which is to be held in Los Angeles next month, arrived in this city yesterday from Portland. Mr. Olsen is accompanied by Rev. C. Hansen, presiding elder of the Portland district of the Norwegian Methodist church. Mr. Hansen is a frequent visitor to Astoria, but this is Mr. Olsen's first visit to this section. The latter lectured before a large audience at the Norwegian church in the east end last evening, his address being in his native tongue on the theme: "Norway As It Is Today." Mr. Olsen is a fine appearing man, about 60 years of age—an excellent type of the real Norwegian. He has the reputation of being one of the most eloquent pulpit orators in his native country. His subject last evening was handled in a masterly way, a vivid description being given of the peculiar national characteristics of the Scandinavian people, the economic conditions of Norway, its literary and artistic attainments and religious development. The distinguishing features of the three Scandinavian countries, Norway, Sweden and Denmark were made plain. These nationalities have in the course of time developed a marked difference in mannerisms, although there is a striking similarity in looks, language and manner of living. "If Norway, Sweden and Denmark reconsidered an organism," said the speaker, "then Denmark has the heart, Sweden the imagination and Norway the will. The Norwegian is the man of action. The national virtues of the Scandinavian people are hardly equalled among the nations of the earth." He referred to the union between Norway and Sweden as a matter of protection in case of war. The friction, he pointed out, that has occasionally arisen between the countries regarding this union are in a fair way of speedy solution. Mrs. Edith Walker delighted the audience during the evening by a charming rendition of a soprano solo. The lecturer leaves this morning for Tacoma where his son, Rev. J. Olsen, is the pastor of the Norwegian Methodist church. Later he will attend the missionary convention at San Francisco, which meets on the 27th of this month. After the Los Angeles conference Mr. Olsen will return to his old home in Skien, Norway. This is his second visit to America, the first visit being the occasion of the general conference held in Chicago in 1900.

PERSONAL MENTION.

George Jones was in the city yesterday from Cathlamet.
M. F. Hardesty returned last night from Portland, where he had been since Monday.
Master Fish Warden Van Dusen returned last night from a professional visit to Oregon City.
Hon. J. E. Gratke and his little son Charles spent yesterday in Portland. They returned home on the evening train.
A Leberman, who is a democrat, is home from the convention. Mr. Leberman was one of the delegates from this county.
Peter Kruse, the inventor, has returned from San Francisco where he went to appear before the United States circuit court to defend his title to a patent. The case was decided in his favor.
Rev. C. Hansen is in the city, the guest of Rev. C. Larsen. Mr. Hansen resides in Portland. He will speak this evening in the Norwegian Methodist church, the occasion being the quarterly conference.
Judge C. J. Trenchard, one of the delegates to the state democratic convention, returned last night from Portland. Mrs. Trenchard, who accompanied her husband to the metropolis, remained over on a visit with her daughter, Miss Anita Trenchard.
Avalanche Sweeps Hamlet.
Brieg, Switzerland, April 19.—An avalanche from Spitzhorn his morning swept the hamlet of Muehlback. The inhabitants were asleep at the time and 13 were killed.

How About a New Spring Suit!

Just because this house sells the best goods, argues by no means that it doesn't offer the best values, quite the contrary.

We sell the best you can buy, but we've got to meet competition in price in order to thoroughly interest you; the illustrate the point perfectly. They argue in prtronage, not only through their style and quality, but through the reasonableness of their price.

$15 and $20 SUITS
